

European Construction Sector Observatory

Digitalisation in the construction sector

Analytical Report

April 2021

		Description: a platform to boost the digitalisation of the built environment and construction sector! The Government's key project involves ministries, municipalities and the KIRA forum. The aim is to create an open and interoperable information management ecosystem for the built environment..
France	Yes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • National construction platform Description: a platform which provide information about construction employment. • KROQI Description: a public and free collaborative work platform for all construction professionals. It offers a range of services aimed at making the use of BIM more accessible, particularly for VSE/SMEs in the sector. KROQI is an exchange and collaboration tool for companies in the construction industry that allows them to share and manage digital BIM files and models in a secure manner, to view and check digital models without having to use complex tools or paying services, to access various business services to optimise professional activity, integrated into the BIM design and collaboration processes, and to collaborate easily with collaborators, partners or clients (threads, etc.). of discussions, videoconferencing, shared management of agendas, monitoring of tasks, etc.).
Germany	Yes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • "Deutschland baut!" Description: a common platform for all companies in the construction sector and a network to facilitate cooperation among industry stakeholders. Description: the national centre for the digitisation of the building industry. It is the federal government's central public contact point for information and activities relating to Building Information Modelling (BIM). The products, open standards and concepts are made available to both public construction and the entire construction value chain.
Greece	Yes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Exportgate Description: online portal which aim to provide an integrated singular platform for networking, trade development and industry analysis support. • BIM Design Hub Description: BIM Design Hub is an Autodesk Authorised Training Centre focused both on the integration of BIM in the design and construction process and its implementation through Autodesk software technology, aiming to meet the latest construction industry demands as well as certification requirements. • Pedmede Panhellenic Association of Engineers Contractors of Public Works Description: a platform whose objective is to the promote BIM and as well as the digitalisation in the sector.
Hungary	Yes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Hungarian National Trading House (HNTH) Description: an online training platform for SMEs on how to do business in markets outside the EU. • Added Value Economics Research and Development Institute Association